Letter From Wm. Stevenson.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., April 7, '05.
Ed. Register:—With your permission, I will make my maiden effort at writing an article for publication.

I left Des Arc, Mo., last November on account of poor health and the cold winters and came direct to the city of San Antonio, and have resided here ever since. On my arrival here things looked quite different to what it did in my State. It is true we had some right cold weather in February, but of short duration. You could see green grass and roses in bloom the entire winter, and this whole country now is a mantle of green and a city of roses. Grass is simply fine and the weeds are knee-high, and the trees are all in full leaf. I assure you it is quite a contrast to our old home at this season of the year. There has been plenty of rain and sunshine here the entire winter, and this country at present is certainly a pretty sight to look at.

The city is beautifully decorated at present for the reception of the President of the United States, to take place here on the seventh, and from general appearance it looks like the old city has outdone herself in that particular. The citizens have everything in readiness awaiting his arrival and that of the Rough Riders, the President's old regiment. The railroads expect to be taxed to their utmost capacity to handle the great rush of people that will come here on that day.

As to the surrounding country I have not seen much of it, but what I have seen I am very favorably impressed with as being a country good for most anything. I am told that various crops can be raised in one year, as the seasons are very long, and in some instances two crops in one year. I made one short visit to the coast country, to the old town of Corpus Christi, and, with others, took a sail across the bay, twenty-two miles, to Mustang Island, and had a view of the Gulf of Mexico, which was grand indeed. From what I could see and learn on my short visit, I think the coast country is a great country, and especially for truck farming. While I was there they were shipping cabbage by the car load to the North. On my return trip I had a better view of the country, and I saw some very pretty country, large farms and substantial towns. All along the San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railroad corn and cotton is the principal crop, and everywhere things looked prosperous and the country seemed to be in good shape generally.

In conclusion, I am bound to say that it has never been my good fortune to meet a more hospitable people than you find here in San Antonio. I am thinking of leaving for home about the 17th of this month, and I will say to my friends and acquaintances in general that on my return home I will be at their service to tell them all that I know about Southwest Texas, and San Antonio in particular, as a health resort.

Called Up in the Night for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"We consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best we sell," writes J. L. True & Son, of West Epping, N. H. "We have customers who think there is nothing like it for croup. A few nights ago a man called us up at 2:30 A. M., to go to our store and get him a bottle of this remedy, as his little girl had the croup. He knew it would cure her, for he had tried it many times before." This remedy is for sale by Arcadia Valley Drug Co.

School election to-day, and all who are interested in the welfare of our boys and girls should be found at the polls. Many mistakes have been made in the selection of proper school boards, some of which I recall in cases which have come under my observation. I have known school boards to employ teachers holding a third grade certificate, instead of one with a higher grade simply because she or he could be gotten a little cheaper, or was in need of a position. That they could only realize what it is to lose time, that can never be recalled. When our boys and girls are asked, "How are you progressing in your studies," and they reply, "I am not as far advanced as I was two years ago," who is to blame? Is it our children, the school board or the teacher? Certainly not the last named party, but I most heartily endorse the statement made by Prof. O. J. Buford in last week's REGISTER. Let us not live so when we come to die a cog will be missing from the great wheel of the universe. But persevere and life will be what we wish it to be. Success and failure triumph and defeat go to make up the sum of the living, yet the teacher who determines to persevere and push forward is the one who will find employment and meet with success. Let such teachers come this way and perhaps our boys and girls will be found advancing instead of retarding.

Roselle, April 4, 1905.

Obituary.

Died, at the residence of her parents, near Middlebrook, Iron county, Mo., Mamie, eldest daughter of Thomas and Josephine Hill. Deceased was born December 25, 1879, and died April 5, 1905. Prior to her death, she professed her faith in her Savior and His pardoning love.

"Close softly, fondly while ye weep, Her eyes, that death may seem like sleep. And fold her hands in sign of rest, Her lifeless hands across her breast.

Make thou her grave where violets hide, Where star-flow'rs strew the streamlet's side And bluebirds in the misty spring, Of cloudless skies and summer sing.

Shall break these clouds, a form of light, With nobler mien and purer sight, And in the eternal glory stand Highest and nearest God's right hand."

Marble Creek Items.

Did you hear that "Bachelor Girl" was dead? A great many people have, but it is all a mistake. "Fitzsimmons" has been very sick. Some weeks ago he attempted to write up the details, which I omitted, after which he had a severe attack of brain fever. I cared for him during his illness, and that accounts for my long absence. He is much better and will, perhaps, be able to send in the details this week.

Mr. Janke has moved to W. L. White's farm.

Cal. Wren has rented a house on John Milbourne's farm, and will work for Mr. Milbourne this summer.

Tom Jones came to Marble Creek Sunday to see his best girl.

Cal. Boswell visited home folk last week.

Frank Luman, of Roselle, and Walter Henry, of Lance, attended church here Sunday.

Joe Selinger's family visited C. K. Polk's Sunday.

With sorrow I read of the death of little Mamie Campbell, who once lived here. While I feel that now she is smiling in heaven it makes me sad to think of seeing no more that sweet face here on earth. Mamie was but a small child when she moved with her parents to Texas, about three years ago, but she was loved by all who knew her. The bereaved family has my sympathy.

BACHELOR GIRL.

Whooping Cough.

The quick relief afforded by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in cases of whooping cough, makes it a favorite with mothers of small children. It liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, keeps the cough loose and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. This remedy has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough and always with perfect success. There is no danger whatever from the disease when it is freely given. It contains nothing injurious and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Arcadia Valley Drug Co.
